Large Crowd Assured Annual Homecoming of West Texas

Thousands of "old grads" and ex-students are expected here in Canyon Saturday when West Texas State College again observes its traditional Homecoming activities—the colorful parade, its unique barbecue, football, get-togethers—the day when old acquaintances are renewed and the "days at college" are relived. Program for the day is complete, and WT students this week will lay the groundwork with observance of "Western Week."

Preliminary events before Homecoming Day will get underway Wednesday afternoon, when a "booster parade" will remind the public of Saturday's events, tooting its way through Canyon and Amarillo. Traditional student Homecoming assembly, broadcast over radio, is slated Thursday morning at 10 a. m., and Gamma Phi sorority's Western dance will be held Thursday night. A bonfire and pep rally north of Conner Hall Friday at 7 p. m. will cap night-before activities.

Western garb will be in vogue at WT from Wednesday through Friday, and all campusites will sport at least three items of cowboy apparel, on threat of a dunking in the horse tank. A posse of T-Club members will be enforcers of the clothing mandate. Registration of ex-students opens at 8 a. m. in the Administration Building, and continues through 5 p. m. Class of '29 members, the class being honored this year, will register in Randall Hall. First main event of the day will be a general assembly at 10:45 a. m. in the Administration Building auditorium.

Luncheons, teas, smokers, club get-togethers, are slated from noon until 4 p. m., with the Class of '29 having a luncheon in the Blue Room of the cafeteria, and a get-together from 1 until 4 in Randall Hall Ballroom. The T-Anchor Club will present a rodeo at 1:30.

The big parade, with some 25 floats and 13 bands participating, will start at 4:30 p. m., following a route around the square and ending at Buffalo Stadium at WT. Bands participating include the Buffalo Band, and bands from the following high schools: Canyon, Borger, Pampa, McLean, Canadian, Lockney, Briscoe, Dumas, Clarendon, Tulia, Quanah, and Phillips Junior High School.

Any business, club or organization which would like to have a float in the Homecoming parade and which has not been contacted by the parade committee, is asked to call Dr. Jack Walker at Phone 5-3981. A place in the parade will be given to the float.

Serving of the barbecue starts at 5:30 p. m., with serving chutes set up on the college tennis courts. Ex-students and their families will be admitted free, if they register and receive tickets. A charge of $1 per plate is made for those not registered as exes.

The football game at 8 p. m. in Buffalo Stadium, with the New Mexico Aggies, and a dance in the cafeteria following the game, will conclude the day's activities.

New Trial Motion Is Considered

A motion for a new trial in the case of Jodie D. Mahan is in the hands of County Judge Roy Joe Stevens. He has 20 days in which to act upon the motion for a new trial, filed by Avert Lair, who is representing Mahan.

Mahan, a senior in West Texas State, was driving a car east of Canyon when the machine collided and killed Terry Smith of Amarillo. Friends of Mahan took the case under advisement and employed Lair to represent him. Judge Stevens fined Mahan $1,000.

If the motion for a new trial is rejected, Lair states that he will take the case to the Court of Criminal Appeals at Austin.

Man and Woman Go on Check Spree

A man and woman opened an account in the First National Bank late Thursday afternoon, and then went out to spend the money and to cash as many checks as possible on the small deposit made.

Whenever they were questioned regarding funds available to meet the check which they were trying to cash, the deposit slip was pulled, which showed that they had deposited the money.

Officers were called and the pair was held pending investigation of FBI into the ownership of the car which they were driving.

Tulia Negro Is In Jail on Liquor

Charlie Johnson from Tulia paid a fine of $110 and costs Monday on the charge of transporting liquor. The man is a Negro who was caught by the liquor enforcement officers.

Mrs. Buster Poston and children of Laramie, Wyoming, are visiting in the homes of Mr. and Mrs. Max Barnard, Mr. and Mrs. Charlie Sutton and Mrs. Irma Boyd.

Mr. and Mrs. A. B. Berry and family spent Sunday in Bushland with their daughter and family. Mr. and Mrs. Richard Hefley and son.

People Urged to Go Western For Big Homecoming

Roland Black, manager of the Chamber of Commerce, said Saturday that the Chamber was urging everyone to cooperate 100% in the West Texas State College Homecoming activities starting today. Black says it will be a good thing for the town if there is a great majority of people dressed in western garb in commemoration of this event.

The gathering of W.T. exes has long been one of the most colorful events staged in Canyon. Visiting bands and a long parade stream up from the college and circle the square. Everyone gets a thrill out of the colorful pageant and then to top it off there's a big football game on Saturday night climaxing the homecoming festivities.

Saturday is the big day of the Homecoming activities. Ex-students begin registering at 10:45 Saturday morning in the auditorium of the college. The entertainment will include an address by a prominent ex-student, a talent show by the present students, and club smokers, parties, football, and a barbecue.

A number of booster parades are planned and one of them is being conducted today. Today's booster parade goes to Amarillo and Black said several business men were going on this pep rally. He said the merchants now have their booster coats and hats and that they would wear them on this trip.

Negro Held on Charge Transport Liquor After Fire

A practically new Chrysler car was found to be on fire on the roadside near the Walter Graham ranch Wednesday afternoon. The car contained a number of liquor bottles.

Sheriff L. S. Johnston was called to the scene and telephoned the Liquor Control Board agents in this vicinity.

A Negro man who admitted that he was driving the car when it went into a ditch and started to burn, was later arrested and held under $1,000 bond awaiting trial in County Court.

So far no action has been taken on the case.

A man was hauled into court and fined $176.15 on the charge of transporting liquor in dry territory.

He was given 30 days in jail in addition to the fine, which should give him a little time in which to think things over.

The jail was empty Wednesday afternoon, but quickly filled as customers were hauled into court by the officers.

Formby Asks Attitudes On Expressway

The expressway between Canyon and Amarillo bobbed up again Thursday when State Highway Commissioner Marshall Formby of Plainview came here seeking information on the situation.

The expressway was turned down by the voters of Randall county on the same day that it was approved by the voters of Amarillo. Potter county did not have a bond election on the small amount of money required for the right-of-way north of the city of Amarillo. A luncheon was held Thursday attended by Judge Roy Joe Stevens, members of Mr. Formby's party, and men from Canyon who are interested in seeing the expressway built in the near future.

Formby, S. B. Whittenburg, and Thomas Thompson of Amarillo called at The News office Thursday afternoon to discuss the proposed bond election of $700,000.

Formby was asked again about the 300 foot right-of-way requirement of the State Highway Department on this highway. He stated that this was a requirement of the federal government and that federal aid could not be secured without this required width of 300 feet. He was of the opinion that when the people of Randall county found that they could not expect to receive financial aid on this highway without the bond issue and the required 300 feet right-of-way that they would approve the bonds.

"Please make it clear to the people of Randall county that the building of the expressway will in no way affect farm to market roads in this county. These latter roads are built out of another fund entirely," stated Formby. He had been informed that this argument against the expressway had been used on the voters in Randall county because of the farm-to-market roads. "This is no argument at all," stated Formby.

As the matter stands, no petition has been drawn for another vote on the bond issue, and this will be necessary before the County Commissioners may take any action in calling the election on the bond issue.

Judge Roy Joe Stevens states that he has been informed that the State will probably require enough additional land at the junction of the city of Amarillo and Randall county for an adequate junction with Georgia Street. This would probably run the cost of the expressway up considerably, but no estimate has been made as to how far the bond issue would go toward paying the damages to property along this proposed expressway.

Mr. Whittenburg and Mr. Thompson were with Mr. Formby taking him over the highway to Dumas hoping that a four lane construction might be built to take care of the growing traffic to the north of Amarillo.

Joe Gibson Talks On Schools at Rotary Luncheon

Supt. Joe Gibson of the Canyon public schools talked Tuesday to the Rotary Club on the Canyon Schools. He introduced three of the four teachers who were present at the luncheon: Mrs. Flora Phillips, Dwayne Brandt, and Donald Briggs.

The new building at the south part of Canyon is 80% complete. The roofers will finish in ten days, and the plasterers started this week.

There will be 23 classrooms, in addition to the auditorium, cafeteria and administrative offices. There are more than 1000 students enrolled this year, the largest number in the history of Canyon.

Remodeling of the high school plant is going rapidly, with home-making rooms and the gymnasium predominating. The schools will spend $416,000 on the new ward school, which includes most of the furniture and fixtures, and $133,000 in remodeling the high school building.

In speaking of the college, Mr. Gibson stated "We don't realize what we have here." He appreciates the splendid cooperation from all citizens in the public, and urges all citizens to get together and support the institutions which are doing the most for Canyon.

Fourteen members of the club will go to the inter-city meeting at Lubbock tonight.

Visitors were: Joe Dickerson and Jimmie Golden, junior Rotarians; E. E. Plank and Mrs. Boone McClure of Canyon; Mr. and Mrs. Cornelius of Colorado Springs, Colo.; Neil Yows of Borger; J. J. Public Votes on Issuance of Park Bonds Tuesday

Residents of Canyon will be given an opportunity to decide whether or not they really want a city park constructed in the near future. The bond election that will decide the fate of the park question that has been before the public for such a long time is to be conducted next Thursday.

Votes will be cast at the City Hall during regular voting hours. The poll will close at 7 p. m. The amount of the bond issue to be decided is $60,000. These bonds will be arranged to mature serially in the event the issue carries. Details of the bond maturity will be worked out later by the Board of City Commissioners.

The ballots will only carry two simple sentences: "For the issuance of park bonds," and "Against the issuance of park bonds." Presiding officers in charge of the election will be Jack Jennings, presiding judge; W. W. "Bill" Sternberg, judge; Irene Angel, clerk, and Mrs. T. H. Knighton, clerk. The voter will mark through the sentence he is opposed to leaving only the sentence of his choice legible on the ballot.

Construction of a city park has long been a "sought-after" project in Canyon. An artist's sketch of the park that is being planned hangs on the wall at the City Hall. Those who would like to have more complete information concerning the park should visit the City Hall and see the picture, then talk with City Secretary Dudley Boyne or visit Roland Black at the Chamber of Commerce office.

Storm Damaged East Coast Gets Red Cross Aid

Storms across the nation continue to keep Red Cross workers busy. Concentration of the heaviest recent storm damage was in Massachusetts and Rhode Island after a hurricane struck the New England states. The Red Cross assisted with $431,000.

American Red Cross financial commitments to date total $239,752 in Massachusetts where 852 families have applied for help. In Rhode Island 849 families applied for help and the commitments there total $184,011. The Red Cross figures include emergency help during and since the first of the New England storms and also long-term rehabilitation plans as worked out with various families.

The largest single expense item in both states was repair and replacement of damaged homes and other buildings. Of $171,203, a total of $99,971 was awarded in damaged homes and other buildings.

Repair cost and replacement of household furnishings were almost as great with a total of $150,928. Of this, $87,203 went to Massachusetts residents, $62,117 went to Rhode Island. In Rhode Island, where independent fishermen were hard hit by the hurricane, the Red Cross replaced much occupational supplies and equipment.

Among other items the organization furnished were food, clothing, and medical aid. The Red Cross supplied money for the areas struck both during and after the storms. All 1,796 families applying for American Red Cross help will be contacted by the end of this week when work will be specially organized for rehabilitation plans for each of these families.

Study the Amendments Before You Vote on Tuesday, Nov. 2

The general election will be held on November 2, and every qualified voter in Randall county should make arrangements now to go to the polls and cast a vote.

One of the 11 constitutional amendments which will be submitted calls for an increase of payment of old age assistance. The limit is now $35 million dollars and if the amendment is adopted the limit will be $42 million. It is pointed out that practically all now on the rolls in Texas are receiving a maximum payment under the federal law and the only change to be made will allow more elderly folks to receive this aid. Use your own judgment.

Another amendment is on transfer of credit under teacher retirement. It is pointed out that very few persons will be affected and the cost will be very light.

Another amendment would extend Federal Old Age and Survivors Insurance to proprietary employees of the State's political subdivision. The Attorney General has ruled that the State has no authority to contract with the federal government for such coverage.

Another amendment seeks to create a state building commission. This amendment was discussed last week. However, it is being opposed as one liable to lead to extravagant building on the part of the State. It would transfer all the Confederate pension fund not now in use to the state building commission, and the erection of an adequate state office building in Austin would save the state thousands of dollars monthly in rent. This amendment does not seek to take away for 30 years the building fund of the state colleges, but what about after 30 years?

Another amendment seeks to abolish the present system of paying state officers, such as the Governor, Attorney General, Comptroller, etc., and giving the legislature power to set these salaries. In the same amendment the legislature would have their own salaries set at $25 per day for 120 days; nothing after 120 days. Personally, we believe this is a bad amendment as it places the salaries of other state officials in the hands of the lawmakers, but gives them a boost in pay, set by the constitution.

Another amendment seeks to prohibit the use of state funds in building toll roads. The legislature looks to the future instead of the present in this matter, since no one has asked the state to enter into such a project.

Another amendment is an old and familiar one: Allowing women the right to sit on juries. This would mean the rebuilding of every one of the 254 court houses in Texas—and what a cost!

Another amendment would affect only seven of the largest counties in Texas in allowing them to vote bonds to build hospitals. We have received several approvals from the large cities of this amendment; likewise words of opposition to the plan. If hospitals are allowed for the big counties, the smaller ones will soon demand this privilege.

Another amendment would give counties of less than 10,000 population for the voters to decide whether or not the office of tax assessor and collector shall be separated from that of sheriff. This does not affect Randall county.

Another amendment would abolish the requirement of poll tax payment to men drafted in service, who wish to vote, and those who have been discharged for a period of one year.

Another amendment would give a four year term to local officers. This is so badly drawn that constitutional lawyers are fearful that practically all officers would be taken in by this amendment, leaving only a few to bear the cost of an election on off election years.

We have no idea as to how many of these amendments will carry, but judging from the protests raised against them we would not be surprised if all were defeated. Some of them are too loosely drawn to be acceptable; and others are simply useless to begin with. Our intention is vote against all of them.

Vote! But vote as you please on November 2.

City Park Bond Issue Will Be Determined on Next Tuesday

Charles Donnell, president of the Canyon Chamber of Commerce, has stated the case clearly as to the bond issue for a city park: "The voters will have to pay the bill for the park if there is to be one."

The only question raised about the park is the cost of upkeep. Those who have had experience in handling such matters believe that the cost will be two or three times the $4,500 which has been estimated by the Chamber.

The layout of the park has been approved by the officials of Amarillo who have devoted their lives to parks and park building and maintenance.

The Canyon News has no idea as to how any person will vote on the proposed bond issue of $60,000 in order that the park may be built. However, we are convinced that if and when the project is undertaken under the proposed plans, the city will have a real park, and not a park of which we shall all be ashamed in years to come.

There can be no argument against the present needs for a park. The only question that we have heard raised is that of maintenance. Maybe that is a big problem, but on the other hand we are told by towns which have built swimming pools that they will soon pay operating costs, and return big rewards for the investments in the future.

Talk the matter of the bond issue over with your friends before you go to the polls on next Tuesday, Oct. 19. No one wants to cast a vote blindly on any question.

365 Weeks Have Been Set Up For Celebrations in 52 Weeks

The Canyon News is often criticised for failing to observe one of the 365 weeks which are being observed by the various groups of persons who are interested in these occasions. Naturally each one hopes to profit financially as a result of the newspaper going all out for their particular week.

Since there are only 52 weeks in the year; and since many business firms fail to respond to all of the calls which are made for observance of such and such a week, a lot of these weeks are entirely overlooked, and outright ignored by the newspaper fraternity as a whole.

What we are getting at is the fact that one week has been set aside by the newspapers of America for observance of their own trade or profession.

This week is National Newspaper Week, set aside for the first week in October. Some newspapers go all out in observance of the week; others ignore the week almost entirely.

The Canyon News printed special sections of the paper until paper and labor became so high that we could hardly afford this pleasure. As the reader observed last week that instead of a special section, National Newspaper Week was celebrated by a few articles from prominent persons, and a number of cartoons, and drawings throughout the pages of the 16-page paper.

There is not a single person in Randall county who does not like to see his name in print. Yet, there are hundreds of persons who refuse to report little items of news about themselves or their neighbors. They seem to have the idea that the paper looks upon persons who report items as news seekers. This is far from the truth.

It takes the combined cooperation of the community to produce a good newspaper. The newspaper has a responsibility to correctly print the news when it gets hold of any item; but unfortunately a weekly paper, like The News, cannot have reporters on every corner waiting for something to happen.

We cannot print the news of the week unless some one reports to us the happenings of the week.

This is where you come in; if you want to see your name in print; if you want to see your neighbor's name in print; you have the duty and obligation of reporting these little items of community interest to the newspaper. No one else but you, yourself, has this duty and this obligation. It will be up to The Canyon News to print such articles which week deem fit for publication.

And never overlook this last statement of facts. Hundreds of items come to the paper every week which cannot be printed.

We want news; good news; fresh news; and are always hungry to print it.

American Visitor Does Not Like Socialized Medicine of England

A teacher in the Sweetwater schools who spent a year in study in England told of her experience with socialized medicine. The price was very low for medical service, but the treatment was terrible. She paid 14 cents for a small bottle, but the medicine was free.

Persons who can afford it are paying for medical treatment rather than wait until some socialized medical man gets around to treat them.

This brings facts back to America, right here in Amarillo: A doctor who was highly trained as a brain specialist, and is practicing his profession in this country, was given a socialized medical job upon completion of his training in one of the best medical colleges of England. He was given a job in this center: Doing what? Of writing prescriptions for corsets. He was told that he would probably get no better job, so he came to America to practice according to his professional training.

Before you go all out for socialized medicine, better study the results of the labor government of England.

President Has Battle on His Hands to Control Congress

We have always maintained that which ever party was able to elect a President should control Congress. We have stated time and again that President Eisenhower should have a small majority in both Houses of Congress in order that his program would not be strangled by the opposition.

The popularity of the President put him in the White House.

If Congress will remain Republican it begins to look like the President will have to speak out stronger than he has been doing.

It is stated that Eisenhower fears that his popularity will not be able to carry through in this November election, and he is very reluctant to make more than one or two more speeches before election. This indicates that the President is pretty apt to make another race for the Republicans in 1956. It has been rumored time and again that neither the President nor Mrs. Eisenhower want to continue in the White House.

Down here in Texas we know little about what is going on this year in politics, and it is rumored that none of the candidates for Congress have been able to stir up the horns, and to get out the vote. We shall see what we shall see.

Speaker Tells of the Threat of Commies to American Life

A recent speaker at the Knife and Fork Club in Amarillo told of his pride in America when told of the heavy vote cast in the general election of 1952. Yet, he said, 40 out of every 100 qualified persons in America failed to go to the polls in 1952.

He quoted his native Hungary, where 96% of the people voted in 1952; 85% of them voting against the commies, in spite of the fact that the voters had to face guns at the polls.

The people of Hungary are not frustrated by the antics of the commies, according to this speaker. They know and understand the dangers of this group, which seeks to destroy them.

Americans were advised that the dangers of communism in America was from within, and not from war. We are not teaching our children of the threats which confront the world if and when communism takes over the management of all nations, according to this speaker.

Most people go along with the crowd, lending support to the theory that man is merely a higher form of animal life.

"PHONY" PSYCHOLOGISTS

The members of the American Psychologists Association were recently told that "self-appointed incompetent psychologists" with "phony $25 mail order diplomas" are reaping millions of dollars from unwary patients.

U. S. SCHOOLS

A smaller percentage of income is being spent on schools in this country today than in 1930, despite the increase in pupils and the shortage of teachers and buildings, a recent survey disclosed.

CONSUMERS' PRICE INDEX

The Bureau of Labor Statistics of the Department of Labor recently reported that the consumers' price index dropped 2 percent in August, mostly because of lower food prices.

AUGUST EMPLOYMENT

August employment figures changed only slightly from the July level. The rise in non-farm jobs balanced the drop in agriculture workers.

The nation's population on August 1st was estimated by the Census Bureau at 162,670,000, including armed forces overseas. This was a growth of 2,782,000, or 1.7 per cent, in one year. The population on August 1 was 11,538,000, or 7.6 per cent greater than on April 1, 1950, the date of the last official census.

McCARTHY CENSURE

The Senate will be called back into special session on November 8th, six days after Election Day, to act on the report of the special committee that has investigated censure charges against Senator Joseph R. AUSTIN: Secretary of State C. E. Fulgham has certified names for the state's November election ballot with two contests arising over who'll be on the fall marker sheets.

Not certified by Fulgham was Gerald Weatherly of Rio Grande City. Attempting to file as an independent candidate for district attorney in the Duval-Jim Wells-Starr County empire of boss George Parr, Weatherly was turned down by Fulgham, who said his petition for a place on the ballot contained numerous inaccuracies.

Other contest was between Eugene C. Williams and Adrian Spears for the Democratic nominee for judge of the Thirty-seventh District Court in Bexar County. It is due for a quick hearing by the Supreme Court.

Williams was certified by Fulgham, but a San Antonio court later ordered Williams' name off the ballot in favor of Spears. Spears was the choice of a Bexar County district delegation that failed to get seated at the state Mineral Wells Convention.

Who is the Liquidator for the State Board of Insurance Commissioners responsible to—the state or the courts that appoint him?

Attorney General John Ben Shepherd answered the question and also poked some light into a current insurance feud by ruling that the state employs the Liquidator. Renne Allred, chief counsel for Liquidator J. D. Wheeler, had refused to vacate his post upon an order from the Board. Allred claimed that he was responsible to the courts which appointed him as counsel.

Shepherd's ruling was expected to have some bearing on the controversy which has already seen the Insurance Board halt Allred's $1,000 per month salary.

Water Conservation

Two plans calling for state financing of water conservation dams in Texas are due to be presented to the legislature in January.

Rep. Harold B. Parish of Portland announced he will sponsor a constitutional amendment calling for a state bond issue and a state tax to finance building of dams by local governments.

Sen. Dorsey B. Hardeman of San Angelo said he will recommend a constitutional amendment aimed at the same purpose.

Employment

Texas' employees will total record numbers by mid-October if expectations hold true, the Texas Employment Commission reports. Estimates of employment, were based on non-farm work, most stable index, according to the TEC.

Hospital Volunteers

A tribute to state volunteer workers caring for 24,000 patients and pupils in Texas state hospitals has come from James A. Bethea, director of the hospital and special school system.

The taxpayer furnishes most of the necessities, he pointed out, but extras like television sets and friendly visitors must come from the outside.

Consumers Spending

Consumers' spending over the state in August averaged above seasonal expectations with some goods establishing definite sales jumps.

The Bureau of Business Research at the University of Texas also noted that sales of older automobiles had improved while new car sales continued slow.

Expenditures for vacations and travel swung to new heights, the Bureau said.

Garden Clubs

A "don't be a litterbug" campaign to keep highways and roadside parks clean has drawn a commendation for the Texas Garden Clubs from the Texas Highway Commission.

In adopting a resolution commending the organization for the cleanliness drive, the Department stated that "expressions of praise from tourists and motorists" for attractive state road-sides resulted from the club effort.

Fire Losses

Texas will lose 8,000 homes to fire during 1954, an insurance industry official has estimated.

Norris W. Parker, manager of the Texas Industry Advisory Association, said fire ruins 20 Texas homes per day.

Other losses during the first nine months of 1954 averaged one school every three days, one church every six days, a hotel every two and a half days and a hospital every three weeks, Parker said.

Drouth

Texas' drouth problems continue to grow over most of the state, according to the U. S. Department of Agriculture.

Numbers of wheat farmers in the High Plains area have stopped their fall planting, hesitating to risk more grain unless rain comes, the USDA said.

Oats plantings also were reported moving slowly. Cotton harvests in South Texas are completed with harvesting now beginning in the irrigated High Plains districts.

Rice harvesting is about three-fourths complete and peanut harvesting has just begun, the USDA reported.

Prison System

Costs of maintaining the Texas Prison System increased slightly during last year because of a 500-inmate boost in population, State Auditor C. H. Cavness has reported.

However, he noted that the average daily cost per inmate was cut from $1.20 to 70 cents during the year.

Dr. Westmoreland Speaks to Lions

Dr. Westmoreland of Houston, who conducted the revival of the First Baptist Church last week, was guest speaker at the regular luncheon of the Lions Club Wednesday. He was introduced by John Petry, director of the Baptist Student Center.

Dr. Westmoreland told the Lions that they should try to help one another and give encouragement to everyone they meet each day. "These are troubled times when men are heavily burdened with each day's problem," said the speaker.

It is possible, he said, for a person to send a telegram to anyone outside of Canyon with the one word "congratulations" and the recipient will say "Good old Joe, I wonder how he knew!" Every person feels he has done something to be congratulated for. On the other hand, you could send the message "Deepest sympathy" and the recipient would also say the same thing.

AND WHY RUBBER BOUNCES

Science has conquered virtually all question of everyday life except the matter of getting four legs of equal length on a coffee shop table.

In states which produce oil and gas, the income from these resources and the taxes paid by the petroleum industry support hospitals, schools, and other public institutions.

Hundreds of communities have been built because of oil and gas production. This, in return, has attracted many related industries, stores, shops and other facets of American life.

Research work is going on constantly to help the petroleum industry reduce its corrosion losses, which amount to about $280 million a year.

More than 170,000 miles of pipe line help oilmen reduce transportation costs. This, in turn, keeps product prices lower.

Per capita consumption of oil products in 1953 averaged 739 gallons.

Cannot Get Something For Nothing—True

You can't get something for nothing, even from the Federal government. And the reliance of the states on Federal funds is a debilitating element in our national life.

Those are, in essence, the major points made in a study of "Federal Grant-in-Aid Programs" which was recently published by the Chamber of Commerce of the United States.

It is significant that leaders of both parties strongly feel that a reassessment of Federal-State relationships is in order. In urging the creation of a commission to deal with the matter, President Eisenhower observed: "The present division of activities between Federal and State governments, including their local subdivisions, is the product of more than a century and a half of piecemeal and often haphazard growth. This growth in recent decades has proceeded at a speed defying order and efficiency. Now there is need to review and assess, with prudence and foresight, the proper roles of the Federal, State and local governments." Governor Stevenson, in a 1952 campaign speech, stated that the Federal government "should be unencumbered in the discharge of its monstrous major duties by a lot of other jobs it need not do, and the states are the dikes which we can build more strongly against the flood waters sweeping toward the District of Columbia." The Chamber's study says: "The present tasks of the Congress in the sphere of national defense and foreign relations are crushing. Congress must be freed from time-consuming concern with those governmental functions which can be performed by states and local communities."

The trend toward reliance on the central government has been enormously accelerated in a relatively short period of time. In the 20's, Federal grants to the states were confined to about 10 functions and amounted to only $100,000,000 a year, of which 75 per cent was earmarked for highways. Last year these grants came to $2,600,000,000 and covered 40 programs. The fields of health, education and welfare, all historically local responsibilities, accounted for 75 per cent of the money.

Along with this has come a drastic change in the tax situation. Prior to 1913, there was little tax duplication between the federal government and the states. Now duplication is the rule rather than the exception—as witness personal income taxes, corporate income taxes, estate and gasoline taxes, and so on. And, to quote the Chambers' study again, the federal grants, rather than being gifts, are in reality "a partial return of money taken from the states and their peoples by the Washington tax gatherers."

Just what activities should again be regarded as purely state and local functions is a matter in which there are vast divergencies of opinion. But it is obvious that very important changes must be made if anything resembling the old separation of powers philosophy which the founding fathers viewed as the cornerstone of our liberties is to be regained. We will have to work on the principle that nothing which it is possible to accomplish on the

WASHINGTON AND "SMALL BUSINESS"

By C. WILSON HARDER

Presidential veto of federal pay raise bill insofar as it pertains to postal workers presents interesting viewpoint on current Washington viewpoint.

Veto message stated bill would raise government costs $312 million for which Congress has not levied additional taxes.

Presumably, but for this oversight, federal workers would have received raises, regardless of whether or not they were or whether jobs serve any useful purpose.

But probably in entire history of government there has never been a government operation as efficient as U. S. Post Office.

Vetoed bill included $112 million increase for this vital service, which was turned down because of reputed $437 million deficit in 1954 and because a measure to raise first class postage rates failed.

Yet evidence indicates U. S. Post Office could be run with no, or little cost.

But Congressman James Davis of Georgia claims $232 million of this deficit is in second class mail; $153 million in third class mail. These deficits total $385 million. Without them Post Office would have been only $42 million in red. Undoubtedly plugging of other leaks would put postal service in black.

Third class provides for delivery of catalogs and circulars for as little as 10c per pound, while first class mail costs 48c per pound, parcel post 18 to 32c per pound, according to zones. In addition, National Federation of Independent Business dition, for big catalogs that go under parcel post, a special bargain basement rate is given.

Third class mail also gives bargain rates to big corporations seeking to drive out independent regional manufacturers, city by city, by broadcast mailing of cut price coupons to every home.

But even more interesting is second class mail accounting for roughly half the deficit. Back in 1879 Congress set up low second class mail rates for newspapers and other periodicals to facilitate transmission of news through impartial publications of which weekly and independently owned daily newspapers are the only survivors.

But under this 75 year old law, big national magazines printing short stories, novels and other material between advertising charged for at $30,000 or more per page, are given cheap rates.

A half pound magazine containing a million dollars worth of advertising, is delivered by Post Office for only a nickel. Mail subscribers to magazines pay 13c per copy.

Thus facts appear those who seek to destroy competition by couponing, those who sell through catalogs in competition with local independent business and a few huge magazine publishing combines are subsidized to tune of hundreds of millions of dollars per year.

Therefore, this is interesting.

No mention is made of making these "free loaders" pay for services which create the deficit. Rather, idea is to charge general public more through higher rates, or taxes, to continue these subsidies, if postal worker pay is increased. An interesting sidelight on a current trend.

CARVING HIS OWN GOOSE

Herman Lindsay-Fitzpatrick was a great landowner in Ireland in the days before that fair land became independent of England. The country was in a great ferment and to the landlord there came one night a tenant, asking a favor.

"Shure, it's this way, Mr. Fitzpatrick," the man explained, "they are asking me to make a speech at a political meeting and I be thinkin' maybe your honor would help me?"

"Of course I will," the great landlord replied, "if you will tell me what you want to speak about." The tenant hesitated, and then blurted out: "That's a delicate question, your honor. The subject we are discussing is—dividing up your honor's land."

BILLIONS FOR ROADS

Lieut. Gen. Eugene Reybold (ret.), executive vice-president of the American Road Builders' Association, recently told the association's convention that sixty billion dollars more than what is being spent now is needed to put the country's Federal highway system into first-class condition. Around $4,000,000,000 is now being spent annually, and an additional $6,000,000,000 a year for the next ten years would eliminate the present road deficiencies and keep new ones from developing.

This is the story of a historic bell. Harry Putnam of the Cuero Record is the authority.

The bell originally was used on the steamer Reliance to sound the hours and to herald the approach of the little vessel into the harbor. It was in the summer of 1865 that the Reliance glided into the port of Indianola, then a thriving city on the Gulf Coast of Texas. That night, fire broke out aboard the ship and it was destroyed, the bell going down with the charred hulk.

Lutherans of Indianola obtained permission from the ship's owners to try to salvage the bell, which was done, and it was placed in the steeple of the Lutheran Church. In 1864, three Union gunboats bombarded Indianola and captured the city. Supplies were seized and soldiers climbed into the belfry and tossed the bell to the ground. Then it was carried to the beach to be shipped north to be made into bullets. But that night, members of the congregation, after obtaining permission from their pastor, slipped down to the beach, loaded the bell on a wheelbarrow, pushed it to a wagon and, after a journey, buried the bell under the sand.

A terrible storm swept down on Indianola in 1875 and, when a second disaster struck in 1886, the survivors decided to move inland and Indianola was abandoned. Many went to Cuero and, when the Lutheran congregation built a church and there was not enough money to buy a bell, George Wasserman told of helping to bury the bell 25 years before and offered to act as guide in its recovery. He led a party to the spot and the bell was dug up and found to be only slightly tarnished.

It was placed in the steeple of St. Mark's Church where it remained until 1894 when a member presented the church with a larger bell and then the old one was used by the Cuero volunteer fire department. But new equipment was installed in 1913 and the bell was consigned to the scrap-heap.

Here it was discovered some years later by Joe Pannen, a member of the congregation. At his suggestion, it was returned to the church and the old bell now hangs in the steeple of a handsome edifice—St. Mark's Lutheran Church.

Fast Passing Argentine Is As Meat Eaters

The dietary habits of the Argentine people are undergoing an enforced change. And it doesn't seem likely that Argentines will enjoy it.

They have long been the greatest meat-eaters on earth. Per capita consumption ran around 230 pounds, and that included tiny children. Each adult actually consumed an average of a whole steer a year.

Now, the news dispatches report, the Peron government is carrying on a highpowered "eat more fish" campaign. Beef has been fast disappearing from the shops.

There's nothing wrong with fish. It's a splendid food. But taste is primarily an acquired habit, and people who have eaten gargantuan quantities of beef for generations aren't liable to find any substitute food very palatable.

Various official reasons are given for the beef shortage—excessive consumption, drought, etc. But there are other reasons that may be more important. In Argentina, the government controls everything. The newspaper La Nacion cited the breaking up of large ranches, either by government action or by decision of the ranchers themselves owing to heavy taxation and unrealistic prices fixed by government.

In sum, the Argentine beef situation seems to be a beautiful example of what happens when the dead hand of government—with price fixing, ceilings and regulations of all kinds—dominates a business engaged in producing a perishable commodity. And it's certainly a perfect object lesson for us here in the United States.

OIL IS AT YOUR SERVICE

In oil-producing states, schools are substantially supported by oil industry taxes.

Detergents and a hundred other items of daily use are derived from petroleum hydrocarbons.

Synthetic fabrics are made from petroleum hydrocarbons.

Petroleum fuels the machines of national defense.

Oil and natural gas supply power for industries.

Cars burn gasoline, use tires of synthetic rubber.

Homes are heated by oil or gas-burning furnaces.

Printing inks, paints and plastics are petroleum derivatives.

Natural gas is the fuel for millions of kitchen stoves.

Oil powers the U.S. transportation system.

The products of the petroleum industry are literally everywhere. Every hour of the day, oil or natural gas serves you and virtually every other American. Oil is indispensable to our way of life; it makes the United States a better, safer country to live in.

You may wake in the morning in a room warmed by a furnace burning fuel oil or natural gas.

You drive to work, and your car burns gasoline, uses petroleum oils and greases for lubricants, rolls on tires of synthetic rubber which had their beginning in an oil refinery.

The plant where you work may depend on oil or natural gas as the source of its power. The oil and gas industry supplies 65% of the nation's energy requirements.

Meanwhile, if you live in Texas, your children are attending schools to the support of which the oil industry pays heavy production and ad valorem taxes. And your U. S. Army, Navy and Air Force plan the national defense with confidence that the oil industry has developed the proven reserves that can fuel their machines of war. Oil also supplies munitions—TNT for instance.

Finally, the lady of the house may prepare dinner on a stove fueled with natural gas, and you may go to bed in pajamas laundered with a petroleum detergent, after reading a newspaper printed with ink made from oil, in a room decorated with a paint manufactured from petroleum.

... And that's only a beginning.

The products of the petroleum industry, oil and natural gas, head the list of our most useful resources. A progressive, competitive oil industry, encouraged in the future as in the past, will undertake the further development that will keep them there.

Around the Town . .

(By Mrs. Clyde W. Warwick)

Canyon's fire company of which Leslie Key is chief gave the little children of the first and second grades a treat that they long will remember when the boys took the children for a ride on the fire trucks. The members of our fire company are all volunteers, working without pay. They are on call day and night and fighting fire is strenuous and dangerous work, and it's hard on their clothes. These men have to go any time the fire alarm sounds, and as all of them are in business it means go as they are.

The men who serve you in this capacity are: Bob Bellah, Tom Brasher, Jim Carter, Clyde Davis, Louie Davis, Marvin Fite, Hosea Foster, Marvin Fite, Lee Foster, Mark Foster, Bob Gough, Arthur C. Haley, Jr., Frank Hicks, Roland Black, W. C. Jarnagin, Jack Jennings, Paul Lindsey, Claude Moore, Johnny McBride, Alvin McDonald, Johnnie McBroom, O. W. Parker, Leon Powers, F. A. Pierce, Harold Pierce, Buck Risner, James Risner, Bill Sternberg, Wilford Taylor, Jr., C. E. Thompson, W. M. Thompson, W. D. Walker, A. L. Walsh, Owen Williams, LeRoy Wooten. These are the men who are on active duty.

On the retired list are Clarence Thompson, Hud Prichard, J. A. Prichard, Frank Hicks, Allen Farlow, Lige Frieze, Wes Kleinschmidt, Ray Campbell, and R. B. Davis. These men are relieved from fire drill, but still serve with the company whenever needed. These retired members receive a small pension from the State for their 25 years of service.

Canyon volunteer firemen not only work at putting out fires but spend much time destroying fire hazards, with the result that they reached a new record in October in the history of their department. There hasn't been a fire in the city limits for four months. The fire company asks that the phone listed under Fire Department be used only for fires. That anyone seeking information about the department call the sheriff's office.

Dr. Don Savage, who is a member of the faculty of the University of California at Berkeley, has been visiting with his mother, Mrs. F. E. Savage and friends while he is working on a project for the University in the Palo Duro Canyons. He has with him his five year old son, Donald Brandon. When he returns to California Mrs. Savage will go with him for a visit of about a month.

Don is working on a joint project between the University of California Museum of Paleontology and the Panhandle-Plains Historical Museum, mapping the caprock beds around the Palo Duro Canyon. Dr. Savage said "In this project we hope to describe the geology, the past climate and environments, etc. Chiefly by means of the contained fossils. Most of the fossils are mammals (mastodons, sloths, camels, horses, pumas, peccaries, rabbits, etc.) but also fossil snails, tortoises (600 lb. giant forms), frogs and birds will be studied." This is to be published in the University of California Geology Bulletin in separate chapters, later to be bound into one large volume.

C. S. Johnston began the study in this area when he was at Canyon and he will be given due recognition by being listed as the senior (posthumous) author of the general and introductory parts of the write-up.

Dr. and Mrs. Savage have four children, Susanne, 11 years old; Sheryl, 9 years old; Donald Brandon, 5 years old; and Stephanie, 2 years old. Mrs. Savage is looking forward to a lively time with these grandchildren.

The Music Arts Club will have its opening of the exhibition of Alexander M. Mack's oils on Thursday evening, October 14, at the Mary E. Hudspeth room in the Panhandle-Plains Museum. The public is cordially invited to come Thursday evening and the two weeks the oils will hang in the Hall. Mr. Mack is a native of Scotland, where he graduated at the Art Club and teachers college of Edinburgh. He has studied in Glasgow, Dublin, London, and Paris. Prior to World War II Mr. Mack maintained a studio in San Antonio, where he exhibited his oils at the Witte Museum. He has maintained studios in Amarillo, Lubbock, and Canyon, living in Canyon since his return from Britain where he served as Air Warden in London during World War II. He will exhibit about 30 oils representing ranch life, industrial plants, portraits, and landscapes of various types of typography. Mr. Mack's oils include conservative, impressionistic and modern.

PETE THE PYTHON CAME HOME! Like most males he found the freedom he acquired wasn't what it was cracked up to be, and so came home. There is this to be said for Pete he received a warmer welcome than most recalcitrant males receive on returning home after a 'speer,' and no questions asked.

Dr. Houston Bright, associate professor of music at West Texas State College, has composed two new a cappella choruses which have been accepted for publication.

Within the last four years Dr. Bright has had ten of his compositions accepted for publication.

"Come to Me Gentle Sleep," described as "a rather standard chorus," will be ready for distribution soon by the Associated Music Publishers of New York.

The second selection written in the style of a spiritual, is "I Hear a Voice A-Prayin'." It was published this summer by the Shawnee Press, publishers for Fred Waring, who used this composition of Dr. Bright's in his summer choral workshops.

Dr. Bright has been notified that his "Festive Piece for Band," which was played by the WTSC concert band last spring, will be performed in December at the annual meeting of the College Band Directors National Association in Chicago.

Another composition recently completed by Dr. Bright is a band piece titled "Sketches from the West." This selection is "written in a mildly contemporary style" and "should have popular appeal, both for audiences and bands," the composer said. Its five movements include "Indian Ceremonial," "Nightriders Lament," "Bunkhouse Ballad," "Prairie Serenade," and "Dance of the Sun Devils."

If you think The Canyon News is the only paper that makes mistakes look at these made by The Dallas News: They had Father McCrea of St. John's Episcopal entering a room in a "hassock." Then they had a boy "peddling" his bicycle. It is said the boy took advantage of the free advertising, stopped pedaling and started peddling.

But one of the funniest mistakes was made by Neiman-Marcus when they were having one of their fabulous style shows. They were crowded for time, so had girls stationed outside the elevator on the Mezzanine floor to help the models quickly disrobe and change their costumes. A fashionably dressed woman got off the elevator on the mezzanine, as she did a pair of hands snatched off her hat, another grabbed her purse and gloves and still another unzipped her dress by this time practically unrobed she collected her senses enough to scream: "All I want to do is go to the rest-room." They quickly helped her to redress. Still dazed from her experience the woman got on the elevator with the models as they returned to the style show. Stepping off the elevator again she was grabbed by the woman in charge of the style show who said: "We can't let her go on looking like this." At last the dazed woman found her way to the outside of the store and breathed a sigh of relief.

The other morning we poured cream on our cooked cereal, Clyde put the cream in his coffee, and then we discovered the cream was sour. I had to fix another breakfast. It reminded me of when Frances Alice Clark, oldest daughter of the Wallace Clarks, was a three year old child. There had been a terrible flood, destroying much property and killing many people. Mr. Clark's father was visiting them and they were discussing which was worst a flood like that or a fire, after listening for a few minutes to the discussion Francis Alice chimed in saying: "I think the worst thing in the world is sour milk."

And that reminded me of what Richard Sanders, son of the Dan Sanders, said when he went to enroll for his first day at school. The teacher asked him where he would like to sit and he said it didn't make any difference where he sat. He was only going to be there a few days. All he wanted to do was to learn to read and write. Richard is now a sophomore at Texas University. It has taken him longer to learn to read and write than he anticipated.

And that reminded me of when the Arnolds lived here. Mr. Arnold operated the light plant in Canyon and they had a little daughter, Alice, who at the age of three was quite intrigued with The News office. If she came to town she refused to go home until she was taken in The News office. One day her mother brought her to call on me and was thanking me for Clyde's patience in letting Alice be shown around the office. Making conversation I asked her what her daddy did. She studied for a minute and then replied, "He washes his face." Mrs. Arnold explained that she always ran to meet her daddy and that the first thing he did when he came home was wash his face.

And that reminded me of Christine Jarrett, daughter of Mrs. C. H. Jarrett and the late Cliff Jarrett. When she was a little past two years old she loved to go across the street to visit Mrs. D. A. Shirley. Her mother told her she must be sure and ring the bell and wait until Mrs. Shirley came to the door. Christine was too small to reach the bell, so when she arrived at the Shirley's she would go in the house, get a small footstool that was just inside the door, put it under the bell, stand on it and ring the bell, then wait until Mrs. Shirley came to the door to let her in. Christine is now Mrs. Kenneth Gibson and lives in Amarillo with her husband and two small daughters, and her mother, whom we regret to say has moved to Amarillo to be with her daughter and family.

Mr. and Mrs. Tom Sifert are living in Fayetteville, N. C., where Mr. Sifert is stationed in the army. Mrs. Sifert who is a daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Louis Henders, is teaching public school music in Fayetteville. One of Mrs. Sifert's friends came to see her the other day and brought her a book to read which she said she thought was one of the best books she ever read. It was Loula Grace Erdman's book, "The Wind Blows Free."

"Birdie" gives this excellent piece of advice in her Sunday column: If your darn kids won't stop speeding, all you have to do is buy an inexpensive governor for the car, set it at a certain limit, lock it and hide the key.

And from the way cars screech around our car, we wish some of your daddies would buy one of these gadgets. Of course if you don't want to spend the money, there's another gadget we could recommend—a nice birch switch! Good advice, but it could be recommended for a great many grown people also—the governor that is. At the rate we are killing and maiming people on the highways, if the Russians will just hold off a little longer they will be able to conquer us without a war, that is unless we follow the very good advice someone gave: give all our enemies cars and let them kill one another. It would be cheaper than a WAR.

A deserted farm house in a gulched field was pictured in a farm journal which offered a prize for the best 100-word description.

An Indian took the prize with this and got no argument from the New Mexico Department of Game and Fish, which reported the story.

"Picture shows white man crazy. Cut down trees. Make big teepee. Plow hill. Water wash. Wind blow soil. Grass gone. Window gone. Whole place gone. Buck gone. Papoose gone. Squaw too. No pigs. No corn. No plow. No hay. No pony.

"Indian no plow land. Keep grass. Buffalo eat grass. Indian eat buffalo. Hide make teepee. Make moccasin. Indian no make terrace. No build dam. All time eat. No hunt job. No hitch hike. No ask relief. No shoot pig. Great spirit make grass. Indian no waste anything. Indian no work. White man he loco."

"Ye are the salt of the earth; but if the salt have lost his savor, wherewith shall it be salted? It is henceforth good for nothing, but to be cast out, and to be trodden under foot of men." —Matthew 5:13.

The cost of finding oil in the United States is about six and one-half times what it was in the pre-war period.

The Southeast Asia collective defense treaty signed in Manila is considered a historic step in closer relations between Asia and the West.

The U. S. oil industry spends substantially more than $100 million a year on research. Each day, on the average, they discover 21 new products, or new uses for old products, all "made from oil."

The petroleum industry now supplies almost 64 per cent of this country's energy requirements.

The First!

Phillips 66 brings you the first All-Weather Motor Oil which has proved it meets the most exacting standard ever established for automobile lubrication . . .

Mil-0-2104, Supplement 1 level.

The toughest standard ever set up for automobile lubrication is the Mil-0-2104 Supplement 1 test. New Trop-Artic is the first all-weather motor oil to meet the requirements of this test. It is an oil which will serve you winter and summer . . . an oil so good it can double the life of an automobile engine!

Compared to ordinary motor oils, new Trop-Artic reduces ring wear 40% or more. It cuts oil consumption 15% to 45%. It keeps pistons and bearings cleaner . . . longer-lasting. It saves you money by increasing gasoline mileage. This has been demonstrated in tests representing over 150,000 miles of driving.

TROP-ARTIC is truly an all-weather oil . . . S.A.E. 10W through S.A.E. 30. Therefore it flows instantly for easy starting at sub-zero temperatures, and yet it retains the film strength necessary to prevent engine wear under high temperature driving conditions. It isn't just heavy duty. It's double duty.

Any car, in any climate, at any time of the year will perform better with Phillips 66 Trop-Artic. It is a worthy companion product to Phillips 66 FLITE-FUEL, the new high performance gasoline recently introduced by Phillips. It pays to stop at the station where you see the Phillips 66 Shield.

Mr. Average Motorist may not realize it but every gallon of modern gasoline contains from 3,500 to 5,000 different chemical compounds made up of hydrogen and carbon.

About 92 per cent of all farm products move to their first markets in oil-powered trucks.

Since 1859, the U. S. oil industry has produced almost 48 billion barrels of crude oil.

Enough motor fuel was produced in 1953 to fill the world's largest reservoir, Lake Mead in Arizona and Nevada, five and one-half times.

Since the end of World War II, the U. S. oil industry has re-invested more than $28 billion in operations.

California had the distinction in 1953 of being the site for the world's deepest oil boring.

HOW TO SET OUT DECOYS

The L, or "fishhook," is a favorite setting of decoy ducks for Joe Godfrey, famous hunting authority. The decoys are strung out in a hook shape, as shown in the drawing, with the blind near the point of the hook. A couple of hen decoys are placed in the bend of the hook. Another good setting is the double triangle set, which is a diamond-shaped spread of decoys with an open lane down the center.

"As Maine Goes"—Badly Overworked Political Phrase

"As Maine goes, so goes the nation" is one of those catchy sayings that seem to have taken on immortality. The trouble is that many a Maine election hasn't shown much of anything that could be called definitive and that was true of the recent one. In the two most publicized contests, a popular Republican Senator won, and a Republican Governor who had alienated many members of his own party was beaten. From this, as was to be expected, both Republican and Democrat spokesmen claim to have found hope and solace. A more objective view was expressed by the Portland Oregonian when it said: "Neither party can reasonably say the Maine election indicates victory in November. The results do show, however, that Republican candidates elsewhere had better run scared."

The "run scared" theme was emphasized by Vice-President Nixon in a very frank talk. What it means is that over-confidence must be outlawed, and that the most intense possible campaign be conducted for every seat in House and Senate. It means also that every effort must be given to getting out the vote—often, in these off-year elections, a disgracefully small proportion of qualified voters actually go to the polls. And "run scared" is not confined to the Republicans. Democratic strategists favor it just as strongly. For the truth is that neither party is honestly certain of controlling the next Congress.

At the moment, the House looks like a toss-up. Forecasts are made all the more difficult because of the fact that in many instances local issues overshadow national issues in electing Representatives.

The Senate race is getting maximum attention. U. S. News & World Report recently offered a review of the prospects, based on the best data and opinion available now. It amounts to this: There are 33 Republican and 26 Democratic holdovers who will be back next session (Senator Morse, the one-man Independent Party, is included among the Democrats for the purpose of this summary). Of the contested seats, it looks as if seven Republicans and 12 Democrats are certain to win. It looks also as if three members of each party probably will win. So the total, thus far, comes to 43 Republicans and 41 Democrats. That leaves 13 close-contested seats, and the Democrats must win eight of these and the Republicans only five to achieve control. Thus, the GOP is given a very slight edge. The figures certainly show why the "running scared" idea is current in both parties.

The President isn't running this time, but it is obvious that his standing with the electorate is a very vital factor. According to a Gallup Poll, Mr. Eisenhower was approved by 74 per cent of the voters three months after taking office, and was still approved by 70 per cent 18 months after. This represents a remarkable constancy. By comparison, Mr. Truman was endorsed by 87 per cent of those polled three months after taking over—but his popularity had sunk to 32 per cent at the 18-month stage. There can be no question that, whatever they think of other Republicans, the majority of the people certainly do like Ike.

Nearly 99 per cent of the nation's tank ships are engaged in hauling petroleum and petroleum products. The remainder carry other liquids like molasses, creosote and linseed oil.

Booker T. Washington, the negro educator, was entertained at a luncheon in the White House by President Theodore Roosevelt, on October 18, 1901.

The United States, with only six per cent of the world's population, has 78 per cent of its automobiles and 51.6 per cent of its trucks and buses.

U. S. oil reserves are at an all-time high, 34.3 billion barrels, despite the greatest consumer demand in history.

Just Between You, Me . . . and the Gatepost

By Lawrence Hunnicutt

Henry Ford's model T-Ford, in addition to putting the nation on wheels, spawned many jokes which gave the country many humorous moments. One of these little quips is credited to Henry Ford, Sr., who is supposed to have said, "You can have any color Ford you want, as long as it's black." Colors soon became so popular that Ford had to add several different colors to his line of black cars.

Until only recently typewriters have been in the same class as Henry's early Fords. You could get any color you wanted as long as it was a dull grey, brown or black. But something different was added by the Royal people. They now have lovely pastel colored typewriters on the market. These new machines should add color to any office and also help the morale of the secretary.

Last week the air took on a chilly nip that was easily noticeable through summer clothes. If there was anyone left who had not noticed how much shorter the day's daylight was, they couldn't help noticing last week. When the clouds covered the sky darkness fell about 6:30 o'clock in the evening. The bite in the air became more pronounced and whether it was a happy surprise or a rude awakening, there could be no more doubts about the fact that autumn had arrived. To many the drop in the thermometer was a welcome relief from the dry, intense summer heat. Of course we may have a couple more weeks of 'Ye ole' Indian Summer' but that should be very enjoyable.

One of the national questions since the beginning of World War II is what to do about the Armistice Day for World War I. It was quite obvious that the nation could not declare a new holiday for each war and yet it was equally bad to overlook the second world conflict. Recently the solution was worked out and the same Armistice Day, November 11, is to be observed as Veteran's Day. In the future this day will be the holiday honoring Armed Forces men of both World Wars.

The local VFW Lucius Penick Post No. 5681 is getting off to a good start as the change comes in the name of the holiday for the veterans. They are planning a Veteran's Day Dance but complete details have not been worked out yet. The members of the organization will have the tickets for the dance soon and also all information you desire. Oh, yes, they have already planned to have some kind of a door prize so someone will receive a nice present.

Evening business around the square should begin picking up some, at least for the two drug stores, for the next few months. With the opening of the Olympic Theater a great portion of the crowds who attend the movies will be shifting from the Drive-In and the Varsity to the Olympic. This opening will also add a few more people to the Saturday afternoon crowd visiting about the square and at the show. One of the things missed greatly while the theater was closed down was the large number of happy youngsters who visited the show and showed by their shouts and laughter that they loved it very much.

If someone starts to complain to you of bad weather remember this, sunshine is delicious, rain is refreshing, wind braces up, snow is exhilarating. There is no such thing as bad weather, only different kinds of good weather.

Some people love to go to the movies but there are others who go to the movies to love.

A celebrating husband awoke with a black eye and very promptly began apologizing to his wife for the shiner. His wife listened a moment and said, "In case you don't remember it, you didn't have that black eye when you first came home last night."

We'd like to see ourselves as others see us — we sometimes think. What we really mean is we'd like for others to see us as we see ourselves. Or better, we'd like others to see us as we'd like to be.

But just in case any married reader means the first statement, we've found a way: The next time you're driving home with the spouse in five o'clock traffic, look around you at each traffic stop. Whether you've ever seen the occupants of nearby cars before or not, you can pretty well size up the family situation.

Of course, it's nearly a cinch to decide whether or not your traffic neighbors are married. If she's all dressed up, and he has just come from work, is he looking at her with animated interest? Does he seem to be "eating him out"? Is he in a coma while she talks? Or are they both relaxed into the bored silence of having long since talked everything out?

If he's nattily dressed, and she looks worn and bedraggled, is he finding life at the office more interesting than he does at home? If so, whose fault is it? His, for not sharing the family load? Or hers, for enjoying the martyr role?

Such a check certainly isn't scientific, but it's a stimulating game — while your own spouse is (1) fighting traffic, (2) settled into a coma of boredom all his own, or (3) telling you something you've already heard.

This absence of self-consciousness while the world looks on is a tribute to the way most of us feel about the family car. We're much more relaxed there than we would be in a glass house or a goldfish bowl — although it has some of the disadvantages of both.

Prevent Disease By Frequent Calls On Your Doctor

AUSTIN: "In the last 40 years great strides have been made in applied and preventive medicine. Never have mass controls for the prevention of disease and medical and surgical treatment for illnesses been so highly developed as today. Unfortunately, however, the significance of this forward movement is not yet generally appreciated by the average individual.

Though science, by way of the family physician, stands ready to preserve individual health, personal indifference, self-diagnosis and self-treatment represent barriers to the helpfulness available in the doctor's office," states Dr. Henry A. Holle, State Health Officer.

"Unfortunately, the vast majority of people still consider their doctor merely as an emergency aid. So long as they are well or are not conscious of any physical impairment, they imagine a physician's services are not required. Moreover, there are many who, even though ill, permit themselves or their friends to diagnose the trouble and prescribe some bottled or tablet medicine for the supposed condition. For this group, interest in the family doctor only becomes acute when the self-prescribed remedies fail to cope with the situation. It can be frankly said that thousands upon thousands of men and women become desperately ill or lose their lives because of this misconception of the doctor's limitations or because of an unjustified self-reliance to meet sickness conditions themselves.

"The family physician cannot fulfill his whole duty to the public until his dual function is appreciated and the services for which he is so eminently qualified to perform are promptly applied. It must be understood that personal health is just that. It cannot be entirely delegated to public health doctors, sanitary engineers and research laboratory workers. And personal health means first, the prevention of disease or its early discovery; and second, the cure of an existing illness.

"Until the physician is considered as a conservator of personal health as well as an agent to combat disease, many of the discoveries and advanced knowledge in medical science will fail pathetically to render full and due service.

NEWS LETTER

FROM CONGRESSMAN WALTER ROGERS
OF THE 18TH CONGRESSIONAL DISTRICT

Quiet on the Potomac

When I returned to Washington to spend about a week or ten days catching up on accumulated mail and attending to agency, bureau and departmental business, I found Washington very quiet. The only bombastic goings on are the committee hearings in the Senate. The Washington papers are mainly filled with international and local news.

The national items that usually dominate the front page are noticeably missing. The District courts are in session and some trials are furnishing the major local news. One trial involves a former police officer alleged to have been mixed up in Washington's dope peddling racket.

Over in Baltimore, they are trying a Washington resident for income tax evasion, and the facts in the case seem to be centering around major gambling and race horse activity.

The Supreme Court convened on Monday, October 4th, for its fall session. 133 applicants for admission to practice before the Supreme Court were admitted. This number included two Amarillo attorneys, namely, John H. Merchant and J. O. Fitzjarrald.

Chief Justice Warren and the other members of the Court appeared to be ready to go to work on a heavy docket. No doubt but that some of the decisions this fall will have some world-wide significance.

Even the tourist activities have almost ceased. I was over at the House Chamber the other day with some of my good constituents, and found that the bullet hole in the roof of the Chamber, that was put there by the Puerto Rican woman, has been repaired. Too bad it was much easier to repair than the damage she did to the physical bodies of some of the Members.

October 6th is one of the important days in my family. It is my good wife's birthday. We celebrated by having lunch at the Mayflower. This hotel is almost like an international cross-roads. It's difficult to go through without seeing someone you know from some where.

For instance, Georgia's United States Senator Dick Russell, Boston's Mr. Welch (of Senate hearing fame), Pampa's Ruby Lee Hughes, and Mrs. Eisenhower's sister. They were all in the lobby at the same time.

We finished the birthday celebration that night, when the children had a "Happy Birthday, Mother" cake. Everyone had a good time, and the cake had to be cut into so many pieces that there wasn't enough to make anybody sick. We know pretty well how to handle birthdays; we have one about every week.

The Foreign Situation

The gloom that seemed to engulf so many of our government departments when EDC failed of ratification in France has turned into sunshine since the London pact has been agreed upon. They feel that great forward progress has been made, and there is anticipation of greater things to come.

There are still many obstacles to overcome and great difficulties that will be encountered. Let us hope that it is the beginning of a unified Europe that will be the surest guarantee of peace.

Reprints

The U. S. Treasury Building is having its face lifted. That is, the outside is being washed down, or rubbed down, or sand blasted, or whatever is necessary to clean it off. One wag, standing on the street corner watching these activities, was heard to remark: "It looks like the Treasury is getting cleaned both inside and out."

Small World

A few days ago I extended an invitation to Commissioner Seaborn L. Digby, of the Federal Power Commission, to address a group of gas producers and royalty owners in Amarillo.

Mr. Digby had to regret the invitation of the tremendous amount of work now pending in the FPC offices. However, in his letter of regret to me, he mentioned the fact that his wife was the sister of Mrs. S. D. Stennis, of Pampa. Mrs. Stennis is the widow of the late Judge Stennis, who was a brother of Senator John Stennis of Mississippi. Hampton Stennis, a son of Judge and Mrs. Stennis, is employed by the Globe-Times Publishing Company in Amarillo.

I wish that Commissioner Digby could have made the trip to Amarillo and taken his wife along. I know they would have enjoyed the visit as much as the people in the District would have enjoyed having them. Perhaps they can come later.

Now is the time to plant your fall bulbs. Stop by H. R.'s today for a wide selection of tulips, Hyacinths, Dutch Iris, etc. 271f

AAUW Has Social To Begin Program

The Canyon branch, American Association of University Women, began the work of the 1954-55 year on October 4 with a combined business and social meeting, held in the newly decorated cafeteria of the high school.

After the group had enjoyed punch and cakes, served by a committee from the executive board, Mrs. Lowell Harrison, president, opened the business session. Mrs. Andy Walsh, the secretary, read minutes of previous meetings and they were approved.

Meetings for the remainder of the year will be held in the library of West Texas State College on the first Monday of the month at 7:30.

It was decided that members of AAUW would cooperate with other organizations in telephoning people to remind them to vote in the coming park bond issue election.

Mrs. Harrison announced that an AAUW workshop will be held in Borger, Oct. 16, and that those who wish to attend should make reservations with Mrs. Charles Harter several days before that time.

Announcement was made concerning the exhibit of paintings by Alexander Mack, which will open October 13 in the first floor art room of the Panhandle-Plains Museum.

Study groups were organized. Mrs. Joe H. Bailey, head of the arts division, directed people interested in that field to Mrs. Glenn Dowlen for opera study and to Dr. Mattie Mack for drama. Miss Jane Darland conferred with those interested in the social studies, and Miss Darthula Walker organized the group interested in international relations. The study this year to be upon the Far East.

A meeting of the board was set for October 21 at 4 o'clock in the college library.

Interested women may become members of AAUW at the November meeting.

Written Farm Leases Needed

At this time of year, landlords and tenants alike are thinking about farm rental arrangements for 1954. While many operate from year to year on the basis of verbal agreements regulated largely by local customs, written leases are better and may save disagreement and hard feelings between the parties.

Farming is a business and should be conducted in a businesslike manner for best success. Rental contracts involve a full year's work by the tenant and possibly thousands of dollars for both parties. A few dollars spent on a properly drawn agreement is good business economy.

A farm lease is not a simple paper. Printed lease forms often turn out to be traps if not understood, or if not properly executed. A farmer-tenant contract is intricate and of such importance to both parties concerned that amateur draftsmanship is risky.

Fixing of cash rent or designating the length of term are relative ly simple. Yet, even in these matters, ambiguity or incompleteness can cause bitter disputes and expensive lawsuits.

A loosely drawn property description may have consequences entirely unintended by either landlord or tenant. Where rent is to be based on acreage, an accurate description is doubly important.

In addition, there are legal rules to substitute for some omissions in written leases. For example, the tenant who holds over beyond his term may automatically renew the contract if the lease is silent on the subject. It is as important to know the results of omissions as to know the courts' interpretation of the language used.

There are many matters which should be covered by a properly drawn lease. For instance, if a tenant is to farm on a share basis, care should be taken to define what expenses are to be paid by the parties as well as what shares are to be taken out. A lease should cover such things as who is to make repairs, what land is to be cropped, whether the tenant can cut timber, whether loss of a building by fire or other cause frees the tenant, or whether the landlord must accept a subtenant.

One great cause of difficulty with leases is blind faith on the part of the persons involved that all differences of opinion can be worked out. Poor memories as to verbal agreements can cause disputes between persons even though they are both honest and generous.

Many of the possibilities that should be covered by a properly drawn lease will not occur to inexperienced persons. The renting of land deserves a written contract, and it is a contract too important to be entrusted to anyone other than an expert.

Freedom is as little lost in a day as won in a day. —Jean Paul Richter.

Are You Friendly?

Thomas Hughes once said, "Blessed are they who have the gift of making friends, for it is one of God's greatest gifts. It involves many things, but above all the power of going out of one's self, and appreciating whatever is noble and loving in another."

We each have this gift of making friends; but do we use it? In high school one has the opportunity to make many friends, which will probably be their life long friends. For this reason it is very important that we put forth our every effort to obtain the friendship of not just a few of our classmates but all of them. Are you a member of a "click" or do you have many friends?

Another important thing is to be the right kind of a friend. This of course is a loyal friend. Do not be a friend only in time of want. If your friendship is not a true one no one will care to have it.

Do you go out of your way to be friendly? Greet others with a smile and a cheery "hello," do not wait for them to speak first. Friendship is the basis of love; love is the basis of peace. Let us help in our world struggle for peace; remember we have this gift Thomas Hughes spoke of. Let us put it to use!

Well kiddies seems as if I promised to tell you all about my new heart throb, Zooky Zue. Bein' a man of my word that's just what I'm going to do.

To begin with I might say this gal o' mine is a bit unusual. Last Friday night I buzzed around in my old faithful dodgemobile (case you're wonderin' that's a classy combination of dodge and oldsmobile) to take Zooky up to Dalhart for the football game.

Well, anyway, I hopped out, rang the doorbell, and then as I was kinda tired, I leaned back on one of the porch posts. Come to find out it wasn't a post. It was Zooky Zue! She looked kinda bored about the whole matter.

Feelin' like I oughta apologize, I told Zooky how purty she looked. All decked out in a purple skirt topped with a lime green and maroon sweater Zooky just couldn't be matched.

It wasn't any time until we were at the game and all settled down whur the wind blows coldest and hardest. Always heard a lot of fresh air makes a feller healthy. Purty soon though when Zooky began to look like Rudolph with an unraveled toupee we had to move. I thought that everything would be okie dokie, but just about then Zooky got hungry. After about six trips to the concession stand and six hot dogs, eight Cokes, and five boxes of popcorn, that gal had a contended look on her face and the game was just about all over. Wasn't much to do then but gather up our buffalo rug and start fur home.

Say you know fellers, all that's empty isn't necessarily a hole in the ground.

The band council meets when called by the director or president.

All twirling contest participants were the guests of the West Texas State College athletic department at the football game between West Texas and Midwestern University.

Leroy Burrow and Jimmie Golden were nominated for presidential candidates of the Student Faculty Congress Friday morning, Oct. 8, at the high school. Nominees for vice-president were Hubert Green and Ralph Miller.

Nominees must excel in scholarship, citizenship, and leadership before they are eligible candidates for this honor. The president or vice-president may not hold any other major office. Only juniors and seniors are eligible for these offices.

After the SFC, acting as a nominating committee, has nominated two names of seniors for president and two names of juniors for vice-president, the names are submitted to the student body. The student body has the privilege of nominating any junior or senior boy or girl from the floor of the assembly called for the purpose of certifying nominations.

All nominations must be made at least one week before the election date. Official election will be held under the supervision of the SFC.

Seeking the office of vice-president is Hubert Green. Hubert is an active member of the junior class and Science Club. He was also president of the freshman class. He plays football, and sports is his hobby. Hubert lists as his favorites: Janet Leigh and Jerry Lewis as his favorite actress and actor, and he likes books about sports.

Ralph "Hooker" Miller is also a candidate for the office of vice-president of the Student Faculty Congress. Ralph served as class president of the sophomore class last year. "Hooker's" hobby is archery and his ambition is to live in Arizona and drill for lemonade. Eagles Whip Wolves in Rough-Tough Contest, 19-0

Airhart, Burrow Sparkle in Scoring

In a District 1-AA scrap Canyon mashed Dalhart 19-0 at Dalhart, Friday night, Oct. 8.

The Canyon Eagles won their fifth straight game of the season in a series of long sprints by Leroy Burrow, halfback, and Jamie Airhart, quarterback. Well placed blocks opened up the way for these two speedsters as they galloped 358 yards in touchdown drives.

Two Canyon TDs were called back because of penalties. The first, a backfield in motion penalty, calling back a 75 yard run by Airhart in the first stanza. The second occurred in the third quarter, a 61 yard gallop by Burrow called back for off-sides on Canyon.

Moving 70 yards in a series of downs, Canyon scored the first good touchdown of the game in the second quarter. Airhart carried the ball to the Dalhart 5 yard line where Canyon was penalized five yards. Here Burrows took the ball and passed to Airhart for the TD just before he was downed.

The second score resulted in the third quarter when Canyon's line dug in their own 2 yard line and Burrow packed the ball up to the 18. Eagle linemen heaved again and Burrow broke loose to carry the pigskin 82 yards to paydirt.

At the end of the third period the score stood Canyon, 13, Dalhart, 0.

The final session saw Burrow buck loose and hussle 66 yards before being grounded by the Dalhart Wolves. Canyon dug in and Airhart toted the ball for the final TD of the game. Airhart failed to convert because of a bad center, leaving the score reading at the end of four periods of play, Canyon, 19, Dalhart, 0. Canyon led in first-and-tens, 8 to 6, over Dalhart.

The Eagles profited by the long swaps around end and played mostly on the ground while Dalhart took to the air to avoid Canyon's line. Dalhart broke loose once in the fourth quarter, gaining 50 yards before being halted by the Eagles who never allowed the Wolves to penetrate the end zone territory.

Governor Dewey announced he would not seek re-election. In a television address he said: "I shall not under any circumstances be a candidate for any public office this fall."

The Federal Communications Commission has adopted new regulations to assure equality in rates for radio and television time for all political candidates and parties.

CHS B Team Bows To Dalhart Team

In a soggy field of mud the Dalhart Wolves' "B" squad dumped the Canyon "B" squad to the tune of 13-0 here at Canyon Thursday afternoon.

Starting the first quarter Dalhart received the kick and with a series of downs pushed the ball over the goal line to mark up the only seven points in the first half.

Picking up steam, Canyon got underway in the second quarter with a series of short passes tossed by Arthur Lee Pruett, Canyon quarterback, to Larry Brandon, end, and Ronald Crow, back.

In the second quarter, Canyon showed definite improvement over the first half by holding Dalhart's offense to one first down with Canyon racking up three first-and-tens.

Half-time came and went and Dalhart opened the third quarter by scoring the final TD but failing to score the extra point. Canyon's "B" squad rolled and pushed up four first downs to close the third quarter.

Action slacked off in the final quarter and neither team scored. Both teams retired from the field weary and mud-caked.

Canyon's "B" squad has played four games of a 10-game schedule, losing three and winning one. Canyon romped over Tulia 20-7, but met defeat with Panhandle, Memphis, and Dalhart.

Coach Lynn Hulsey, "B" squad coach, and his assistant, Tom Jinks, line coach, reported that there are 28 boys on the B squad this year.

They are Mac Boswell, Meade Humphries, Jimmie McBroom, Ronald Crow, Dee Zane Pond, Arthur Pruett, Leonard Miller, T. B. Baca, and Don Duncan, backs; Charles Buchanan, Dory Funk, Bill Harrison, Ed Leake, Joe Grey, Richard Fleming, and Jack Metcalf, tackles; Terry Bagley, Roy Hunter, Dana Wilbanks, Larry Brandon, ends; A. G. House, Tommie Davis, Jesse Ogle, Gene Powers, Joe Bailey, Mike Wheeler, Alan Hanks, guards; and John Wheelock, center.

We Protect Wild Life; What About The Child Life

"We protect wild life. What about child life?"

Col. E. B. Tilley of Houston, president of the Texas Safety Association, asked this question today as he spoke in behalf of the child traffic safety program being sponsored in Texas this month by the Texas Safety Association, the Texas Department of Public Safety and the National Safety Council.

"The rules of good sportsmanship protect our wild birds and animals," he said, "but too often the rules of safety are neglected when it comes to protecting our children on the streets and highways of the nation."

Col. Tilley pointed out that 4,400 children under 15 years of age were killed in traffic last year, and another 225,000 were injured.

"The Texas Safety Association is solidly behind this September traffic safety program," he said. "We want to do everything we can to help educate people to their responsibilities for the safety of youngsters."

Col. Tilley listed eight rules for adults — parents and motorists — to follow to safeguard children in traffic.

Parents should:

1. Set children a good example by crossing streets only at intersections, waiting for the signal, looking both ways and for turning traffic before crossing.
2. Find out what traffic safety education your children are receiving at school and coordinate your own instruction with it.
3. Impress upon children the danger of playing in the street or near moving traffic. See that they play only in approved play areas.
4. See that children are skilled in using outdoor toys such as roller skates, bicycles, scooters, tricycles and wagons, and that the youngsters practice safety rules when using the toys.

Motorists should:

1. Keep a constant look-out for children. Even when children are clearly in view, their actions sometimes are unpredictable.
2. Near school areas be constantly alert for signs, signals, traffic police, school patrols and for children themselves.
3. Decrease speed and increase vigilance when driving near playgrounds and residential areas and other places where children are likely to be found.
4. Don't compete with bike riders. Be ready always to give them the right of way.

France Is Example Of High Prices

Writing from Paris, Doris Flee-son, the nationally syndicated columnist, said this of the French system of doing business: "Cartels keep prices up and wages down and stifle competition. One good U. S. supermarket, in the opinion of an American businessman here, could bring food prices down 20 per cent."

It is undoubtedly true that typical American retail stores, either chain or independent, could slash the price of other goods by heavy margins.

We take for granted the best, most efficient and most economical retail service on earth. There aren't any cartels here. No one has a monopoly on anything. Competition is keen in every line of endeavor—and nowhere is it more intense than in retailing.

Sometimes, of course, there are complaints. Lately it has been argued that the spread between what many articles sell for at wholesale and what they cost at retail is too great. We forget that, in large measure, we consumers create that spread, by demanding complex and costly marketing services — of which processed foods and hand-somely packaged merchandise are good examples.

The proof that retailers aren't unduly profiting at our expense is found in the figures. Food chains, for instance, often earn as profit as little as one cent out of each dollar's worth of goods they sell. Department and variety stores usually earn only three cents or so. All the rest goes to buy the goods, to pay wages and taxes and other overhead, and to provide the services the consuming public demands.

National Bible Week Is Set

The Laymen's National Committee announces that the 14th annual observance of National Bible Week will be held from October 18th through 24th. Its purpose is to encourage everyone to read the Bible—and thus to help find the spiritual strength and courage which is so necessary to our very survival in today's chaotic world.

Abraham Lincoln once said that the Bible is "the best gift God has given to man." Its precepts are timeless and as enduring as the world itself. Read the Bible during the Week — and every week thereafter.

HERE IT IS AGAIN

Money doesn't talk these days. It goes without saying.

Moscow Changes Tune in Its International Peace Agreement

WASHINGTON: The latest reports received in Washington from U. S. officials in Moscow confirm earlier suspicions that the new group ruling Soviet Russia is scoring successes at home and that the regime is in less danger of internal revolution than was the Stalin regime.

This surprising appraisal has been coming into Washington by cable and is now confirmed by veteran journalists just back from Moscow. The general conclusion to be faced by State Department leaders is that Russia is following a more intelligent course today than she did several years ago.

Moreover, most U. S. officers in Russia are now convinced that Georgi M. Malenkov is only one of several high Red leaders running the Kremlin show. In other words, the initial impression that Malenkov would be another one-man dictator—on the Stalin type—is now dispelled.

U. S. operatives also report that the change in Russian tactics—which they say is not fully recognized and realized in Washington—is having a major effect in some western European countries. The Russians, it is reported, appear to be following a policy which will keep them out of a major war in the near future.

While this is good news in itself, the fact that the new Russian ruling group is strengthening its position, and improving the lot of the average Russian, may be a serious matter as the years pass. Malenkov, V. M. Molotov, Nikita Khrushchev, and L. M. Kaganovich seem to be the Big Four at the moment in the Kremlin.

The U. S. intelligence conclusion is that the Russians have the same goal as they did under Joseph Stalin, but that they will pursue a less dangerous policy and hope for successes in internal and political fields more than in the military field.

If the latest appraisal is a correct one, the United States decision to reduce its military forces may be in the best interests of the nation and the world, if strength is not cut severely. At least the decision seems to be based — at least partially — on the intelligence reports which have been reaching from Moscow.

The United States policy of rapprochement with Germany is intended, among other things, to unseat Premier Mendes-France in Paris—who has wrecked EDC and who still refuses to consent to the rearming—as a sovereign power—of West Germany.

The U. S. policy is one which might ultimately stir up much fear in France that the country is becoming isolated, with Germany replacing her as the major bastion of defense against Russian aggression from the East. If this fear grows to any extent, Mendes-France's position would be imperiled.

Some U. S. observers cannot help but wonder if Mendes-France did not at least strongly hint to the Communists at Geneva that he would do what he could to wreck EDC if the Reds gave him a truce in Indochina. His behavior since the Geneva Conference leaves much to be desired from the U. S. standpoint, and is the cause of considerable speculation.

The U. S. policy of dealing with West Germany will become more apparent as the weeks pass and, in the meantime, Paris will be given a polite cold shoulder. A sample of this treatment was obvious when Secretary of State Dulles recently visited Bonn and London and left Paris off his schedule. He said he was too busy to see the French Premier and Paris officials felt insulted. They are in for more of the same.

Adlai Stevenson still hits harder than any other Democratic candidate. In his latest speeches he has hurt the GOP with his constant jibes at GOP disunity. Stevenson has managed to convince a lot of people that the Republican party is too divided to achieve any coordinated legislative program.

His approach is an ironical one for the Democrats were victims of the same indictment, quite often when they were in power. The conservative wing of the party—which battles for its life against the liberal wing at every convention—was annually blamed for failures of Democratic administrations to pass civil rights bills.

Now the "outs" are the old "ins." The shoe is on the other foot and the "outs" are kicking hard with it—with some effect.
